Dedication

Advisor, professor, registrar, these are a few of the ways in which Professor William G. Rozeboom is known to University students. Mr. Rozeboom came to the University of Dubuque in 1944, and since that time has been Professor of Music, Professor of History, and Registrar of the College of Liberal Arts.

As head of the department of history, he has taught just about every phase of world history but now confines himself to teaching only Ancient and Medieval World. No one who has sat in his class will ever forget the energy and enthusiasm with which the class was conducted and the great love of history that he exhibited.

Enthusiasm and energy go beyond the classroom however and pervade everything he does. The office of the registrar is always open and ready to advise and consult with a student on any problem.

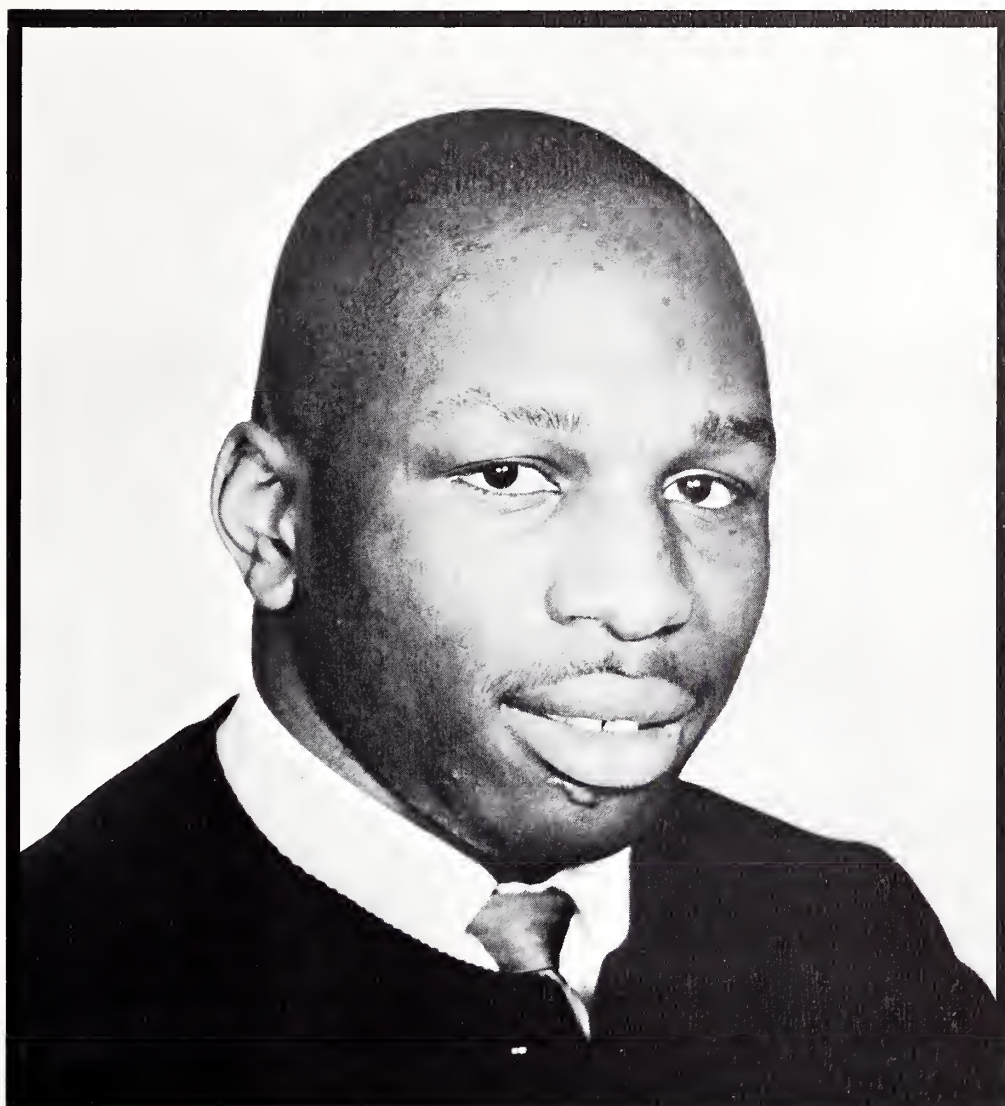

Mr. Rozeboom's enthusiasm and love of learning is a daily example to the students of the University. His keen concern and interest in the problems of students has endeared him to all who know him. The 1963 KEY is dedicated to this man who has given nineteen years of service to the University of Dubuque, Professor William G. Rozeboom.

Never too busy to answer a question from a student.

The University . . .

What is the University of Dubuque? A collection of buildings; some old, some new, some not yet completed. And yet the physical plant is not enough. The University is a staff and faculty; dedicated, well trained, willing and able to guide the minds of those who come to study. Those who come to study — the students compose the third component which makes up the University. Eager intellects seeking new knowledge, eager hands exploring new areas of research, fertile and impressionable minds ready to grasp new ideas and re-examine the old.

These facets; buildings, staff, and students add up to the University as it exists today. A university that is quite different from that of fifty years ago and one that is daily changing.

In the 1963 KEY, we will attempt to focus on the many factors that make up our University and life on our Campus. Our faculty, organizations, events, and ourselves; all making this a unique year at the University of Dubuque.

This committee also sponsored a Leadership Seminar in the spring for all old and new campus officers.

Primary Court was established this year to try cases of rule infringement in the men's dormitories. It is hoped that a useful purpose will be served and men will receive justice from their peers. # Student Iowa State Education Association

The Student Iowa State Education Association undertook as a service project for the year the collecting of books for Asian students. Through this drive, 450 books were sent to the Asian Foundation for distribution.

Trying to build professional attitudes and interests in the National Education Association and the profession of teaching are the main goals of SISEA. Speakers and films relating to educational topics were presented at the monthly meetings.

SISEA and Kappa Delta Pi sponsored a tea for the NCATE Evaluation team in March. This was a valuable learning experience for all members involved.

From playing at pep-rallies and football games to the formal concert in May, the University Concert Band has provided musical entertainment for the student body. Under the direction of Dr. Robert Wiedner, the band has developed a repertoire that ranges from a Bach fugue to the music of Richard Rogers. The band also serves as a practical laboratory for advanced students in conducting.

Chapel Choir

A variety of sacred music was provided by the Chapel Choir to add to the atmosphere of worship in the weekly chapel services. Under the direction of Ann Staniski, the choir has developed a varied repertoire of selections. In addition the choir serves as a laboratory in which students can study and sing music for worship.

Music Educators National Conference

The Music Educators National Conference student chapter promotes interest in musical activities. Composed of music majors, MENC heard speakers in their special fields, and in effort to improve their department, involved discussion with past graduates.

During the year, students attended surrounding high school contests to talk with promising musicians.

Concert Choir

Under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Nielsen, the University of Dubuque Concert Choir appeared at several concerts and banquets. The choir members produced superior tonal qualities and a richer blend with a new and unusual arrangement; being placed individually instead of in the traditional four sections.

During semester break in January, the choir toured New York and the East, presenting concerts for churches and schools enroute. The choir appeared at other functions also, including the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Des Moines in May.

Carmen

On May 25, 26, 1962, the Dubuque Concert Choir presented George Bizet's opera "Carmen" in Senior High Auditorium. The four principal roles were sung by professional singers, however all the other roles were filled by members of the choir. The production was directed by Professor Kenneth Nielsen and staged by Ronald Luchsinger. Since the production was staged late in the year, it could not be included in last year's KEY.

Chaplain Roger Woods addresses USCA.

An opportunity for Christian worship discussion, service and fellowship for all students is provided by the United Student Christian Association. It is affiliated with the Iowa State Ecumenical Council and the National United Campus Christian Fellowship.

Deputation teams were organized to visit the rest homes and County Farm to lead worship and recreation. As a campus service several recent motion pictures were shown to make money.

The principle service project during the year is the fund raising drive for the World University Service, an organization that aides needy university students all over the world. As in past years a campus carnival was held with a faculty talent show, carnival, dance and auction; all the proceeds going to the World University Service.

Young Democrats

A successful appearance of Iowa's Democratic Governor Harold Hughes started Political Emphasis Week off in April. This day was jointly sponsored with the Young Republicans.

Speakers informed the group on current issues and helped define the role of the college student in politics. The group hopes to learn and perpetuate the ideas of the Democratic Party and help acquaint the campus with the divergent views in political campaigns.

International Club

Closer ties between foreign and American students through various activities on the Dubuque campus is the hope of the International Club. The International Fiesta saw many talented students entertain and then serve desserts native to their several countries.

Attendance in Des Moines of the Iowa International Conference was an interesting experience in living for all. A free rondalla dance ended their activities with plans for more new projects in the next years.

Young Republicans

Young Republicans provides an opportunity for students to find political expression and recognition. They collect, analyze, and discuss information concerning political affairs and hope to train young people as effective workers.

Political Emphasis Week brought Iowa's Junior Republican Senator Jack Miller to the campus for two speeches. At their regular meetings, various speakers presented informative talks. Members attended conventions to gather and promote new ideas.

The chapter is affiliated with the American Association for World Peace which hopes to achieve these goals through the United Nations.

Four pages were usually published with six page editions for special occasions such as Homecoming and May Fete. A new literary publication, The Rotunda, was jointly edited by the KEY and Que. The magazine contained short stories and poetry written by University students.

Key

The KEY staff was enlarged and worked throughout the year to put out a summer book, a new experience for all. This enabled the KEY to portray the spring events with the rest of the year's activities.

Attendance at the Associated Press Conference in Detroit brought calamity to the group. Their suitcases and camera equipment were stolen in Chicago, forcing them to attend in informal clothes, quite a contrast in the Sheridan-Cadillac Hotel.

In the spring, the KEY Staff selected ten candidates for KEY queen. The queen was elected by the student body and also was Dubuque's representative at the Drake Relays.

The editors consult and decide on a page plan.

Kudd

"This is KUDD." The campus radio station began broadcasting early in the second semester. Affiliated with the Intercallegiate Broadcasting System, KUDD provided tap-notch listening enjoyment for the dormitory residents. New headquarters for the station are being built in the Peters Commons Student Union which will provide increased facilities. Under the direction of station manager, Jeff Baker, and Mr. Wenger more records are being collected for a popular and classical library and an expanded broadcast schedule has been established.

Jeff Baker is kept busy cataloging the many new records that arrive.

Delta Phi Sigma

... Deltas became autograph seekers as they got the signatures of the football team, coach, the Homecoming Queen, and court, on a football which they raffled off at the Homecoming game.

Their "Real Italian Homemade Spaghetti" supper and several Slave Days gave the Deltas more opportunities to work and have fun together.

At Christmas they enjoyed a dinner given by honoraries Mrs. Benz, Miss Aitchison, Miss Rothlisberger, and Mrs. Bohner. The honoraries assisted officers Melody Campbell, president; Diane Strausberger, vice-president; Judy Rold, secretary; Carol Morrison, treasurer; and Myra Ryan, Panhellenic representative, in leading sorority activities.

The spring closed party took the Delta's and their dates to an oceanside atmosphere for a "clam-bake."

Not present when pictures were taken were Virginia Beck, Roxy Edwards, Johnni Kane, Nancy Pfister, Myra Ryan, Marcia Stegman, Diane Strausberger, Miss Aitchison, Mrs. Benz, Mrs. Bohner, and Miss Rothlisberger.

Gamma Phi Delta

The Gammas began two new activities this year: singing at a sister's serenade, and forming an octet which sang at their all-school "Somewhere" dance.

Homecoming was a successful event for the Gammas. One of their members, Jane Gibbs, was crowned queen; and their float "Udder Defeat" won second prize.

Gammas kept the campus supplied with food during their after-Thanksgiving food sale, and their "Food for Thought" in Steffens and Severance Halls during final week. They must have eaten plenty themselves because they managed to retain the Zeta Phi Scholarship Cup.

At the Gamma's Sweetheart Swirl their own Char Widmer was crowned Key Queen, to the delight of her sorority sisters, who had created the beautiful white tree of hearts which adorned the dance floor.

Officers Judy Martin, Judy Hanson, Dianne Clark, Barb Weber, Ruth Halsted and advisors Mrs. Shell, Mrs. Scheuller, Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. Farquar, and Mrs. Pascual welcomed twelve "Gamma Toads" during Heck Week.

Closed parties, picnics, and dinners filled out the year's activities, which ended with Flunk Weekend at Delhi.

Zeta Phi

Zetas began the year with a get-acquainted tea for faculty women and wives, after which they chose two new hanoraries, Mrs. Chester Buckley and Mrs. Howard Kucera, to assist hanoraries Mrs. William Tupper and Mrs. William Zuker, and officers Sandy Davidsan, Sharon Wunderlich, Linda Harken, and Barb Grau, in leading sorority activities.

Gay decorations and "merry-ga-round music" helped the Zeta cakewalk become the second highest maneymaker at the USCA Carnival.

"Zetaburgers" and other faad provided a welcome break from studying for residents of the girls' dorm during final week.

Playbay Lounge apened the second semester for the Zetas. Calendar girls' from "Around the World" displayed their charms during the flaar shaw while "bunnies" tended to the needs of the guests.

Zetas had many oppartunities to work and have fun together by participating in closed parties, infar-mal shawers, suppers, and Flunk Weekend.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council acts as coordinator of sorority activities on campus. Composed of the president, vice-president, and a representative from each sorority, the Council meets once a month with advisors, Dean Kronquist, Mrs. Johns, and Mrs. Davis, to plan and discuss activities connected with sororities.

Besides regulating rush and Heck week, Panhellenic assisted with two community service projects: administration of Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine, and a neighborhood canvass for the Cancer Drive.

This year's Council was under the leadership of President Myra Ryan, Vice-President Sandra Nelson, and Secretary-Treasurer Joan Hummel.

The Athenaeans' began the year with a September party at Crystal Lake, which was the first of many social functions they sponsored throughout the year, including the annual "Black Orchid Nite Club."

Athenaeon's rivalled Pusateri's for pizza business on Sunday nights. Their many suppers featured extra fast service and reduced prices for all pledges after Heck Week.

Spring activities included the closed party at the Royal Palais Ballroom with an afternoon stag smaker, and Flunk Weekend at Baraboo, Wisconsin.

Officers Tom Rasenquist, President; Jymie Larson, Vice President; Mike Barkhurst, Secretary; and Jim Yader, Treasurer planned the year's activities to promote a well-rounded program of scholarship and social association within the fraternity in order to achieve poise and academic success.

Mu Sigma Beta

M  $\Sigma$  B

Mu Sigma Beta strives to bring out the best in each member. "As individuals and as a group we try to add to the campus life at the University of Dubuque. As equals in brotherhood we share in the common bond of fellowship." So said President Warren Williams, who was assisted by Lewis Lehnhardt, Dan Pietrini, Frank Covey, Woody Longley, and Bill Blum, officers; Mr. Nielsen and Mr. Vogt, advisers.

Homecoming Parade spectators chuckled as the Mu Sig "Honorable Outhouse" went by.

Of course, no school year is complete without a Mu Sig serenade, even though there is no ladder to climb at the New Women's Dorm.

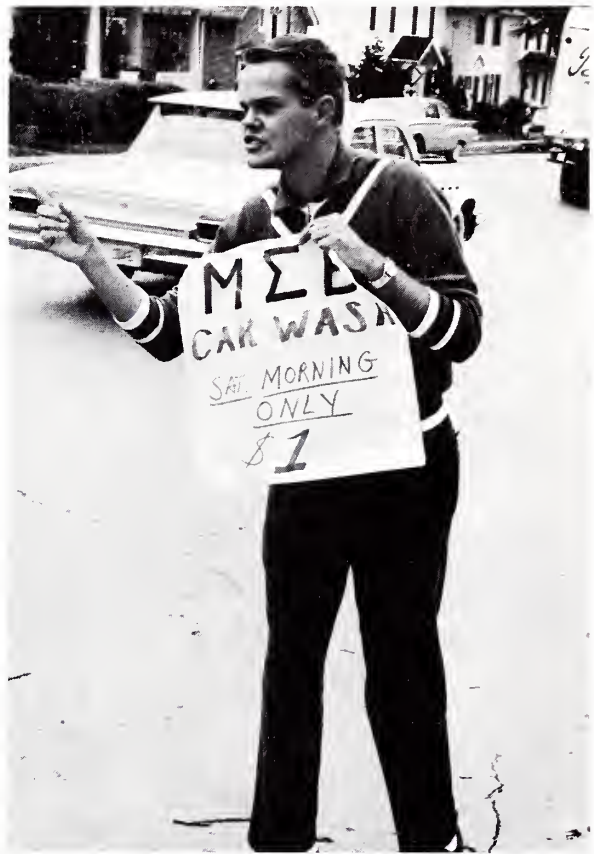

Hilarious costumes abounded at the "Roaring 20's" closed party in November.

The Mu Sigs had the distinction of having the largest pledge class of 1963, twenty-five new members were initiated during Heck Week.

Peters Commons never looked more beautiful than at the Mu Sig "Spring Gardens" dance.

The year's activities ended with Flunk Weekend at the Maples.

Thirteener

13

The Thirteeners began another busy year with a "back-to-the-campus" party for members in September. They soon got to work and presented their annual "Autumn Leaves" Dance.

The U. of D's first movable-float Homecoming Parade proved to be a good testing-ground for Thirteener ingenuity, as their "Orbit the Peacocks" float won first place. Other fall activities were the Homecoming Bonquet, distribution of desk blotters to the student body and selling fruitcake to "bring home to mother!"

New Officers Bruce Schmidt, president; Kent Hubbell, vice-president; Bob Miller, treasurer; Ken Jackson and Jahn Voorn, recording and corresponding secretaries, were chosen at the November election.

Stag parties for the four members who were married during the year, car washes, flunk weekend at Boroboa, and spring party for graduates rounded out the year's activities.

Thirteeners and their advisors Mr. Robert Adams and Mr. Carl Ross found that during the year they did much to achieve their goals of brotherhood, scholarship, and leadership.

ATHLETICS

Football

With a squad of thirty-five freshman and nine lettermen, the University of Dubuque football team opened its season against a tough Luther team at Decorah. The Spartans managed one touchdown against a stout Luther defense which came on a 56-yard jaunt by freshman halfback Mark Beichley, while Luther depth and power pushed across five touchdowns. At the final gun, the Norsemen were on top by a 35-7 margin.

The Spartans got their first victory at home by outplaying Simpson 27-7. A solid defense combined with the hard running of Scott Berry and Mark Beichley for victory.

The next Saturday again brought victory for the Spartans, this time a 10-7 triumph at Mt. Pleasant over Iowa Wesleyan. The two teams played on even terms with one touchdown apiece, but a third quarter field goal by Jim McNamara secured victory. The Spartans' score came on a 32-yard pass from freshman quarterback Dave Bacon to Dave Conner.

The Wartburg Knights inflicted the visiting Spartans' second loss, 21-0. An inspired line held the Spartans to 100 yards total offense, while the Knights were operating successfully on the ground and in the air.

The University's Homecoming was darkened by 19-0 pounding at the hands of a powerful Upper Iowa team. The home team displayed its usual highly-determined attitude, but was clearly out-manned. Highlight of the game was the excellent performance of lineman Dean Stewart.

A trip to William Penn next proved to be unsuccessful as the mighty Statesmen emerged on top by a 12-6 score. With each team grinding out a third quarter touchdown, the game was played on even terms until Penn broke loose for another score in the last period. Fumbles proved costly for the Spartans, but the team began to show definite improvement.

Side line conference enables Caach Evans to guide the team to victory.

The Parents Day crowd witnessed the Spartans' fifth setback, at the hands of Central, 13-6. The game looked bright in the first quarter with a strong defense supporting a touchdown plunge by scoring leader Mark Beichley, but the Flying Dutchmen came back to tie the score at halftime and went on to score again in the third quarter and retain possession of the "Victory Bell."

As the last two games of the season approached, the Spartans' previous performances consisted of a strong defense but an inconsistent offense. This was again the case against Buena Vista as the Beavers outplayed the Spartans, 6-0. Although the score was close, the Beavers consistently dominated play and forced their visitors to fumble three times within a short period of play.

The final encounter and undoubtedly the toughest of the long season was with the undefeated conference champions from Parsons. The Spartans played well but the competition was too stiff as the Wildcats struck early and bull-dozed their way to a 40-6 victory. Lineman Dozier Janes did an admirable job in holding national small college scoring leader Nate Craddock to shorter than average gains.

Happy but exhausted, Caach Evans is pleased with the team's victory.

Basketball

University of Dubuque's basketball team opened its twenty-three game schedule on December 1 with a 100-83 loss to St. Ambrose. On March 2, the Spartans completed the season by dropping a 100-74 effort to Parsons, the Conference champions.

Between these two dates, the Spartans treated their followers to a number of exciting basketball matches.

Very little was expected from the 1963 squad, since four of the five starters were inexperienced freshmen. Nevertheless, the team played brilliant basketball at times and managed to defeat at least once all but three of the conference foes.

Final league record was 6-12 which placed them sixth in the Iowa Conference; the composite record was 8-15. At home the Spartans were 7-5 but were unable to win a single encounter on the road in eleven tries.

The season had its high and low points. Many considered December 15 as the brightest part of the year, for then Dubuque edged the 1962 conference champions, Buena Vista, in an 80-76 overtime thriller, thereby gaining its first victory in twenty-five starts over a two year period.

Another high spot came on January 11, the night the Spartans downed then undefeated Central Dutchmen, knocking them out of the league lead.

Lowest point of the winter came on March 1, when the Spartans lost to Iowa Wesleyan, 64-55. This was the second time Dubuque lost to the last place Tigers who won only three contests all season.

Conference on the mat results in a victory for the Spartans.

Bob Noth, Bob Homrick, Bob Bowe, Som Limperis, Don Doughty, and Charles Hawkins.

A fifth place tie in a field of seventeen teams at the Knox Invitational Meet gave the Dubuque Spartans an encouraging start in their first meet of the season. LeRoy Bufton tumbled his opponents for a first place in the heavyweight division while Bob Nath and Bob Bowe grabbed fourth places in their respective divisions.

The Wheaton Invitational Meet saw Bob Hamrick and Bob

Bowe capture second and third places in their separate weight classes while the Spartans finished as a team in a tie for sixth.

Bowe, Sayers, and Noth captured seconds, Hamrick a third, and Doughty, a fourth place to enable the grapplers to secure third place in the rugged Iowa Conference Meet. Dubuque's 39 points were only surpassed by Wartburg's 49 and Conference champion Luther's 58.

The final and most lopsided meet for the season resulted in five pins and a forfeit for the Dubuque wrestlers to crush Elmhurst 35-2.

The Soccer Club's 1962 season consisted of two home matches and four road matches. The team was successful once on the road and once at home. The highlight of the season came with the 7-0 shutout of Northern Illinois at DeKalb. Two outstanding features of the game were a solid scoring punch that brought several early goals and a sound defense which allowed the well-coached Huskies to remain scoreless.

This year's squad was captained by veteran Benoni Abboa-Offei and had a nucleus of nine returning players. New players improved rapidly and supported the solid play of the veterans as the club faced the toughest schedule of its young history.

Conference Champions

CHAMPIONS Terry McDonald, Jim Watt, Paul Skelly, Jack Renz, and Dave Sage.

With three returning lettermen, Dave Sage, Jack Renz, and Paul Skelley, two new coming freshmen, Terry McDonald, Jim Watt, and sophomore John Voorn who ran as a pusher at home meets, the team was off to an exciting season.

Terry McDonald and Dave Sage, running in that order, paced the distance runners to an undefeated season of conference competition, to second place finish in the Les Duke Invitational Meet at Grinnell, and finally to first place in the Iowa Conference Meet. The Spartans won the conference meet with 53 points edging out Wartburg's 61 and Luther's 63.

The Conference Championship was the high point of the season for the Spartans and Coach Mercer. McDonald won the meet in a record time of 15:08.2 for the 3.1 mile course breaking the old course record of former Dubuque runner Peter Boyd. Sage sprinted to third place, Renz, tenth, Skelley, eleventh, and Watt, twenty-eighth.

Non-conference opponents, Platteville and Cornell, outdistanced the Dubuque runners for their only two defeats of the 1962 season.

Despite the dismal showing in dual meets, the season had several bright spots. Highlight of the year was the District 15 N.A.I.A. championship at the Drake Relays. Walt Hodge emerged District 15 individual champion as he took medalist honors for the meet with a 68.

Tennis

The University of Dubuque's tennis squad experienced a poor season in 1962, winning only two of its ten engagements after having won two consecutive Iowa College Conference Championships.

Although Jim Blum and Jim DeYoung, the Spartans' top men, opened the season by placing second in the Conference Doubles Tournament, they were unable to get the team rolling until its fourth outing when it won its first meet, beating Wartburg, 5-2. The Spartans won again the next time out, downing Platteville, 5-2, but then proceeded to lose their remaining five contests. As a result, the squad's final record was 2-8. However, it did manage to place fifth in the Conference Meet, May 17-18.

The Spartans' only bright spot in 1963 was its number one netman, freshman Jim Blum, who won six of his ten matches during the course of the season.

Track

As the snow melted Dubuque trackmen were preparing for the first indoor track meet in late February. Nine freshmen made up one half of the Spartan team and gave it a needed boost.

Senior Scott Berry and freshman Terry McDonald were consistent performers. Berry heaved the shot put to a new record of 51' 3¼" in the Conference Meet, but left a mark of 52' 3" at Beloit Relays. McDonald set the pace in distance running with his two mile run of 9:40.6 at Elmhurst Relays setting a record there and at the U. of D. In Conference Meet McDonald raced to first place in the mile tying the mark of former Spartan, Peter Boyd, at 4:21.3.

Some other accomplishments of individuals who consistently participated well were: Bob Noth tossed the discus over 142 feet for a new school record; Dave Sage placed second in the 880 yard run and third in the mile at the Conference Meet; vaulting a new school record at the Conference Meet, Larry Polsky placed second. Also at the Conference Meet the javelin was hurled by Bob Leachman for first place. The composite score of the Conference Meet placed Dubuque second by only one point over Wartburg. The Spartans won the javelin, shot, and distance medley relay as well as placing in the discus and pole vault.

At the Iowa Teacher Relays first place in the shot and places in javelin and discus were earned by the Spartans. Beloit Relays brought a first place in the shot and places in the javelin, discus, mile run, and pole vault.

Bob Noth and Keith Hensler were both awarded varsity letters in track to make them each triple letter winners.

Breaking his former record, Berry puts the shot 52' 3".

Baseball

In playing only their third season since baseball was re-established as a varsity sport, the University of Dubuque Spartans soared to a highly respectable 10—8 composite record.

Although Dubuque was not highly regarded by the pre-season experts, it compiled a winning 10—6 Iowa College Conference mark and challenged for the league pennant late in the year. It lost the championship on the final day of the season by .018 percentage points but won more games than any other team in the conference.

The squad was led by its heavy-hitting third baseman, Bob Buelow, who batted .358 and socked five home runs, and by pitcher Al Van Iten, winner of seven of his eight outings. Right fielder Tom Turner also made several vital contributions to the team's effort and was accordingly voted the Leadership Award by his teammates.

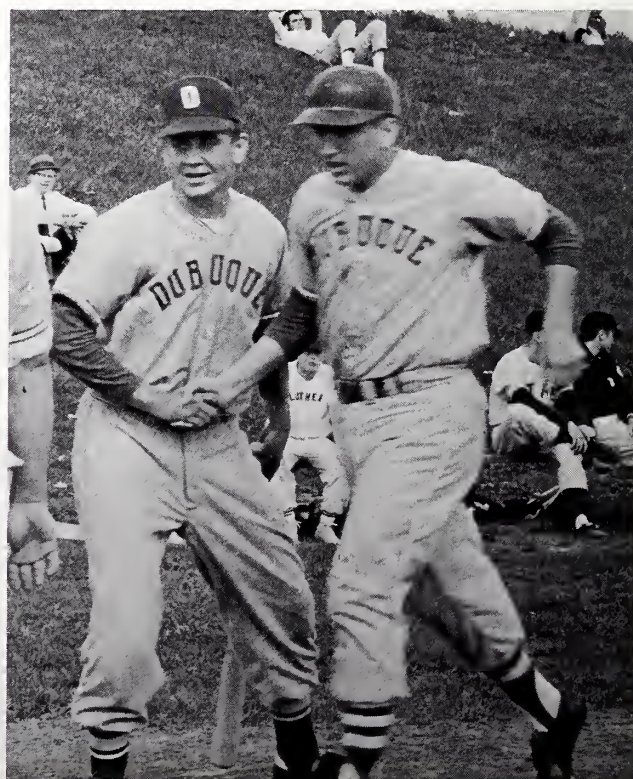

The Spartans played good ball for most of the season. They split their first three double-headers but gradually rolled into high gear, winning their final six conference engagements.

Coach Schiele adds his two-cents.

Cheerleaders

"Fight on Spartans down the field . . . "

This familiar line was led by energetic U of D cheerleaders. Their activities began this year with a Pep Rally for freshmen during New Student Days. Succeeding rallies consisted of humorous skits often held in Peters Commons. Under the supervision of Mrs. Benz, they cheered at football and basketball games. In addition they were present at wrestling matches to encourage the Spartans. The '62-'63 cheerleading squad was composed of five girls and one alternate chosen by the Student Senate and the Presidents of each campus organization.

Electrified by Homecoming spirit, Cheri Graham rallies the students in a Spartan cheer.

EVENTS

New Student Days

On Monday, September 10, 1962, there arrived on the University of Dubuque campus individual students who were to form the class of 1966. In one short week students molded themselves into the "spirit of '66," or as they were often heard to say to sophomores, "stupid, scintillating, scatterbrained freshmen."

Energy plus came with the Class of '66 and that's exactly what one needed to survive the many trips from the family car to the dormitory to get unpacked. With one's belongings in his room and his parents on their way home, roommates and new friends received priority.

An introduction to language by Carl W. Geffert began an intellectual quest the first evening on campus; and following early the next morning an extensive battery of tests greeted the freshmen.

Registration made the freshmen a whole student, that is, made him an expert at standing in line and signing his last name, first name, and middle initial to endless registration materials.

The Freshmon Talent Show was a culmination of the exuberent spirit shown by the closs of '66 during New Student Doys. Musical solos and groups, comic routines, skits, ond a trompoline oct produced o lively performance.

This was only a beginning for the "Spirit of '66."

Homecoming

Homecoming 1962 was officially opened with the crowning of Jane Gibbs as Queen Friday, October 12, in McCormack Gymnasium. Following the coronation, a snake dance was farmed and twisted its way to destination bonfire where the students' spirits matched the frenzy of the flames.

In revising a custom lately 'forgotten a parade was farmed in downtown Dubuque. The floats all in keeping with the Homecoming theme "Spartan Countdown" kept the school spirit alive and burning, ready for the big game.

Although the day was "AOK" the Spartan's brilliant takeoff was tarnished by the final scare, and the Peacocks flew home with the prize. However the spirited students and alumni ended the day dancing at the ball sponsored by the Letterman's Club.

Interspersed throughout the weekend's activities were many teas and get-togethers in the various Resident Hall lounges where the 1962 Homecoming was discussed and where dreams were dreamt of an even bigger Homecoming 1963.

"The Winter's Tale"

Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale" opened the University's drama season in Campus Lane Theatre early in the year to become the final production in the little theatre. Under the direction of Dr. Donald J. Savage, the play demonstrated the talents, hard work, and originality of the students and director through its elaborate and original costumes and the simplicity of the set. The cost of twenty-two also took the production to Hope College in Holland, Michigan for a two night stand.

Hamline College in St. Paul, Dr. Savage's undergraduate alma mater, returned this year with three outstanding one act plays.

With the passing of many memories old Campus Lane gave way in the spring for construction of the new student union.

USCA Carnival

One of the activities of the United Student Christian Association was its Carnival in November. In preparation for the carnival, a World University Service Representative acquainted the Dubuque students with the work of WUS by speaking at chapel services, in selected classes, and by individual discussion. The money collected and contributed by the USCA Carnival went to WUS.

Friday evening's faculty talent show triggered a successful beginning to the Carnival's extended scope at Peters Commons. The student body found to their delight that some of the faculty have interesting talents in addition to those of teaching. The Carnival, itself, was held Saturday afternoon at McCormick Gymnasium with original booths prepared by campus organizations. A food booth and cake walk satisfied the hungry student while those who had particular grievances with roommates, friends, and professors loosed their revenge by jailing or "jello-ing" them. An informal dance preceded the auction in the evening.

Christmas

Some visual signs of Christmas began appearing several weeks before vacation. Imitation stained-glass windows of shepherds, angels, and wisemen were fitted to exits of Steffens Hall and two Christmas scenes were depicted in the rotunda display window by art classes. They also had the task of decorating Peters Commons, where pine cones and red ribbons were hung at the entrance. Festive international greetings skirted the walls of the dining hall, and two brightly lighted Christmas trees added to the spirit of the holidays.

The Phi Omicron Fraternity held its annual Christmas dance, "Winter's Dream," on December 8.

During semester break a ski party at Chestnut Hills was sponsored by Student Senate.

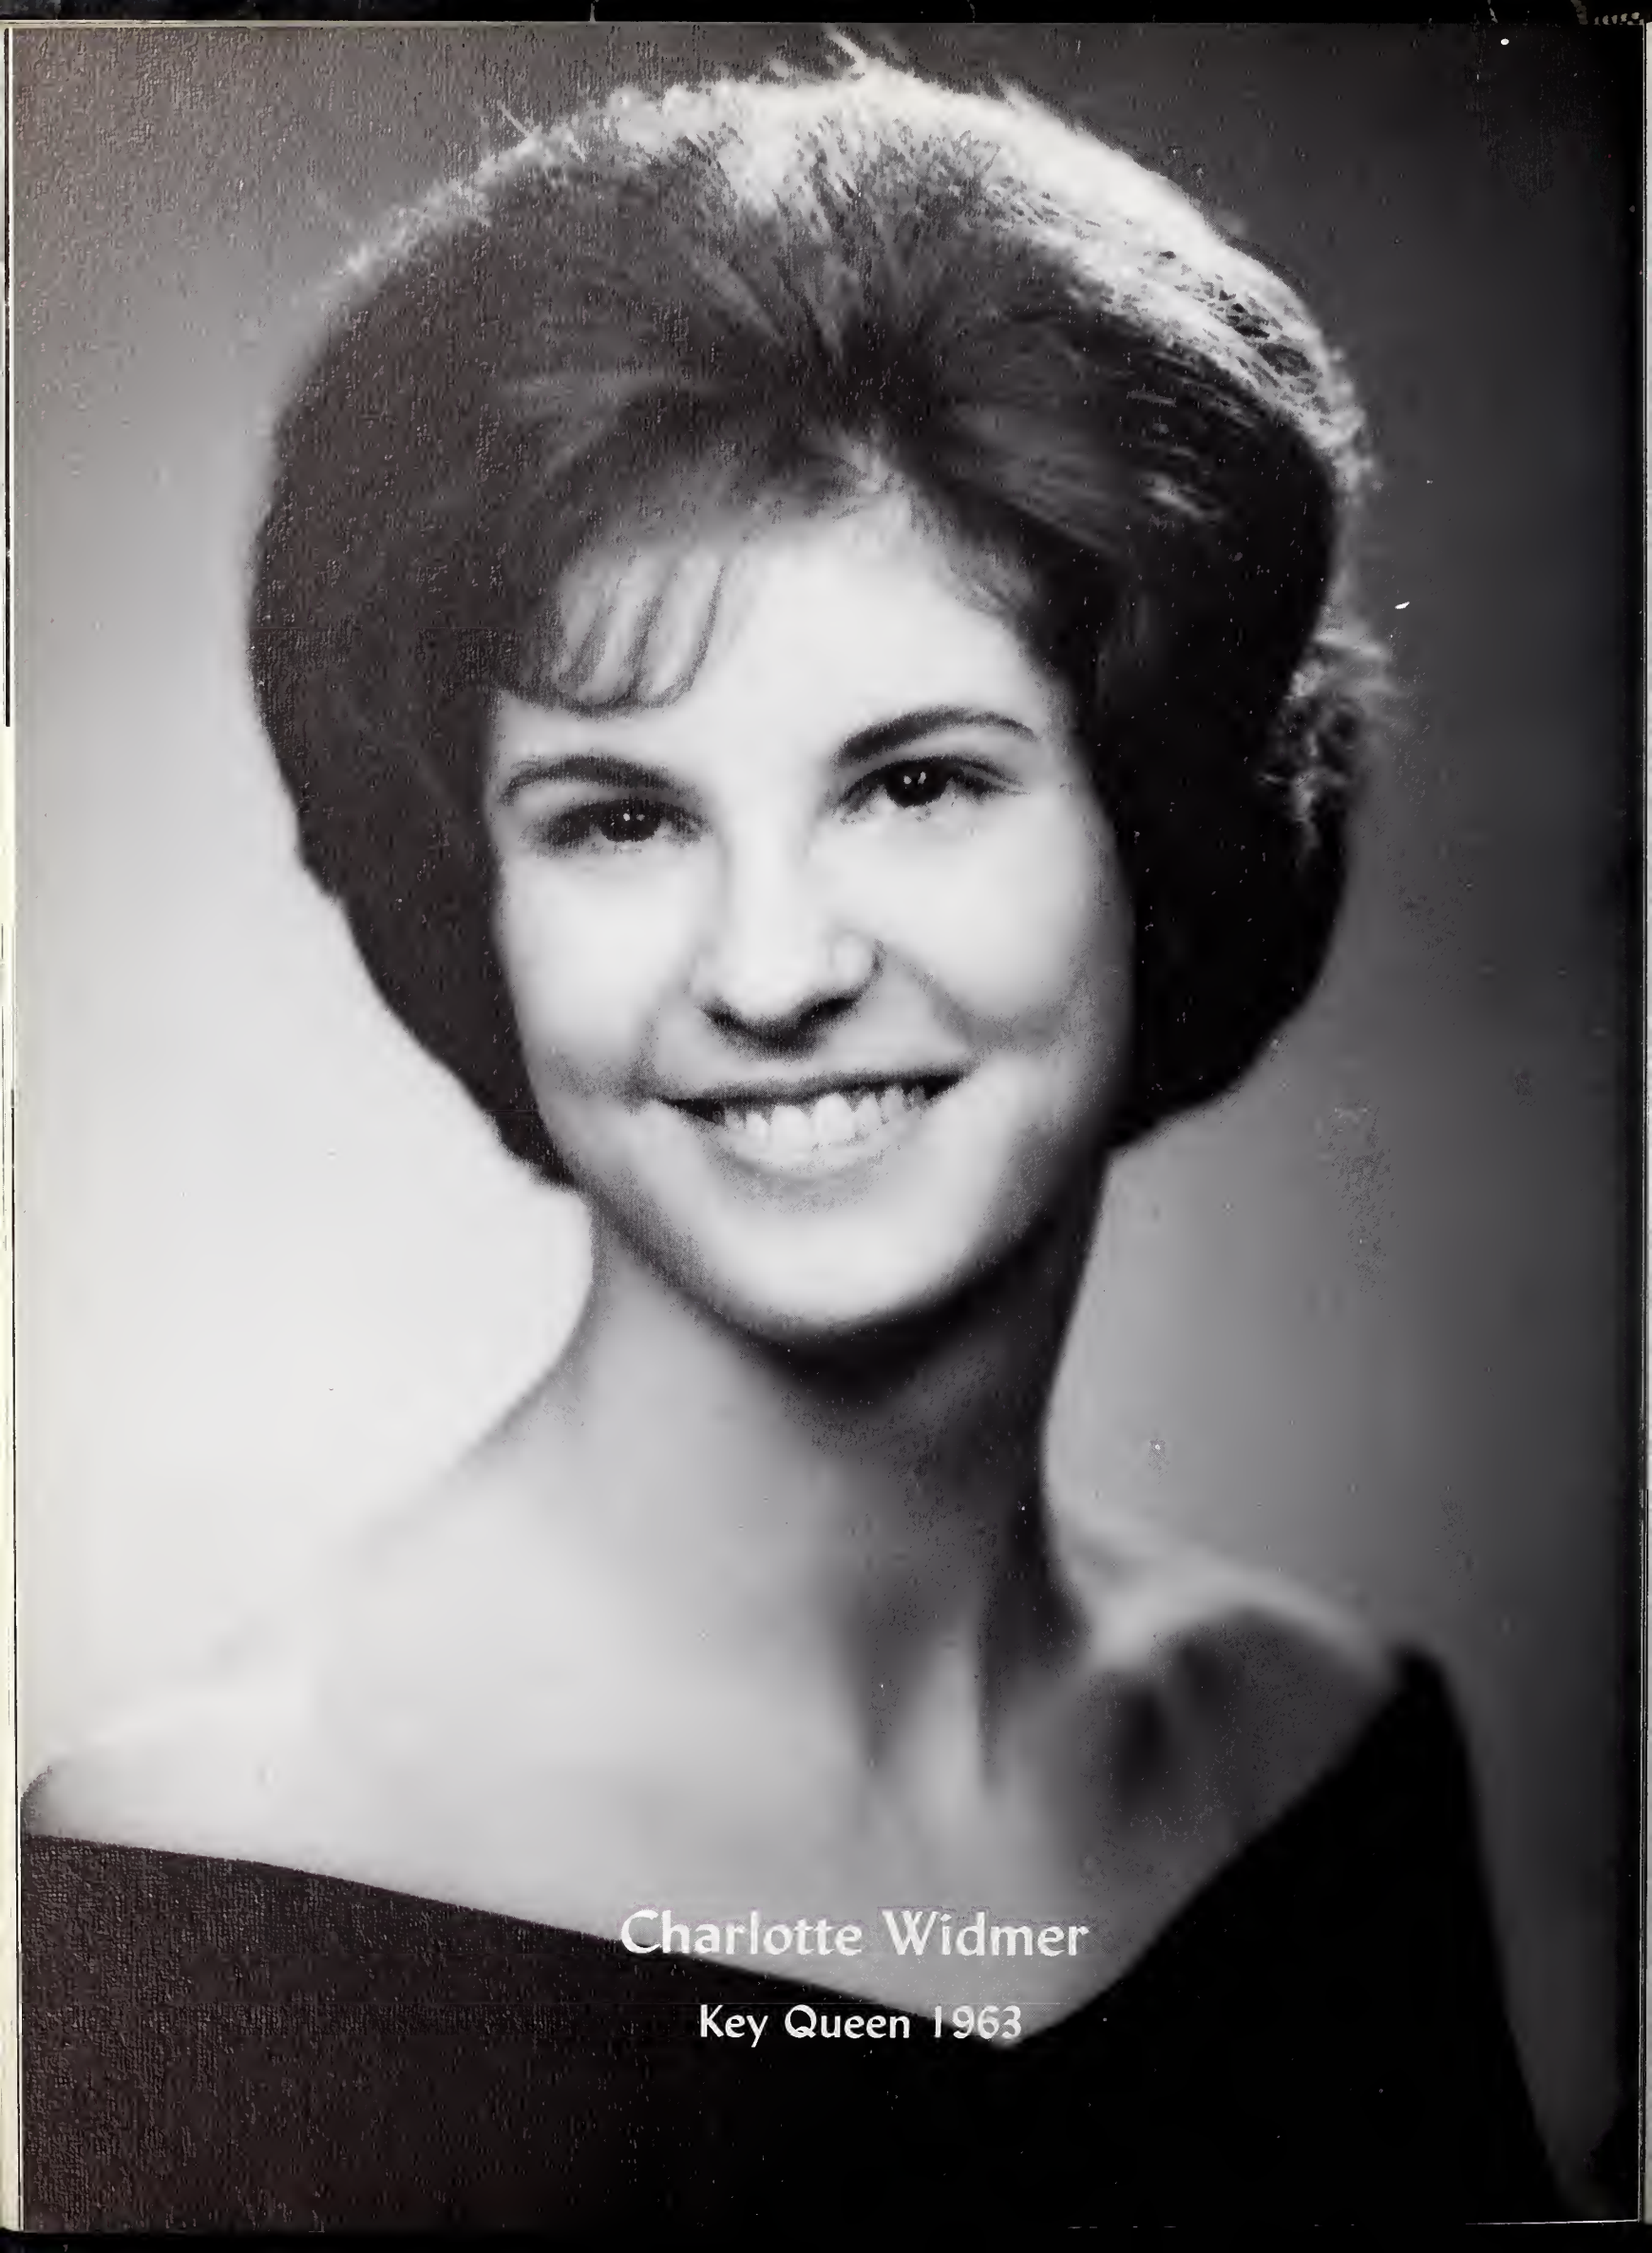

"Have you been good this year, Rich?"

Another year of skiing or falling at Chestnut Hills.

Sweetheart Swirl

Dancers swirled around a tree of hearts in the Valentine setting of the Gamma Phi Delta Sweetheart Swirl. Under the glittering theme letters the coronation of the 1963 KEY Queen highlighted intermission as Carol Flage, 1962 KEY Queen relinquished her crown to Charlotte Kay Widmer, a sophomore from Winfield, Iowa.

Char was one of ten candidates chosen by the KEY staff on beauty, poise and scholastic ability. Later in an all school election she was selected to reign as Queen with a court of four selected by the students. Queen Charlotte represented the University as a candidate for Queen of the Drake Relays in Des Moines.

The final touch.

Heck Week

One hundred ten pledges enlivened initiation activities during Heck Week, February 26 — March 3. Early morning breakfasts during the week saw long lines of pledges solemnly and silently crunching through the snow toward the commons. Inside the cafeteria, however, morning, noon and night the rafters rang with the choruses wrought from the "lower than the lows" by the stern actives.

Dress up day, skip day, and a new innovation by the Delta pledges — skip days — highlighted the week's activities.

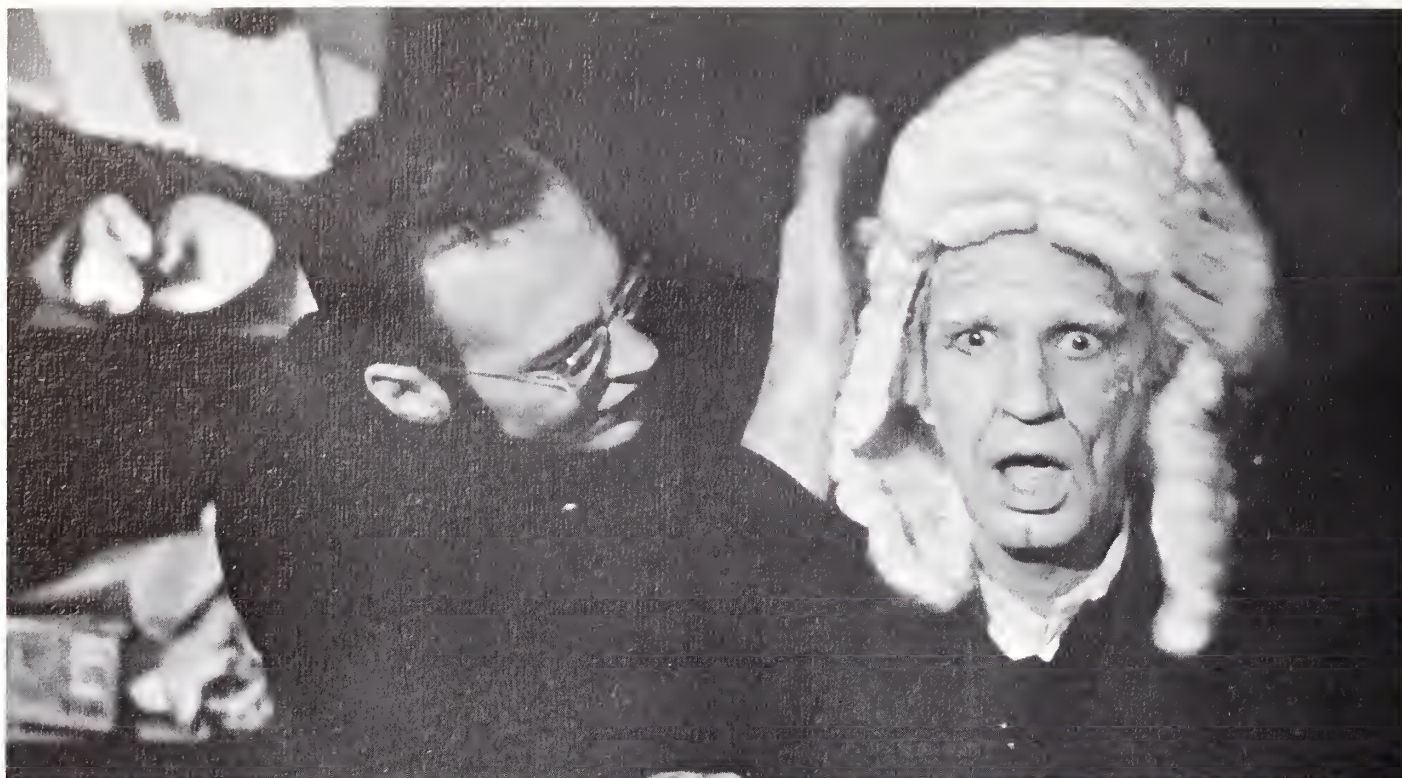

"Zeta Phi!"

"I wanna be a GAMMA PHI!"

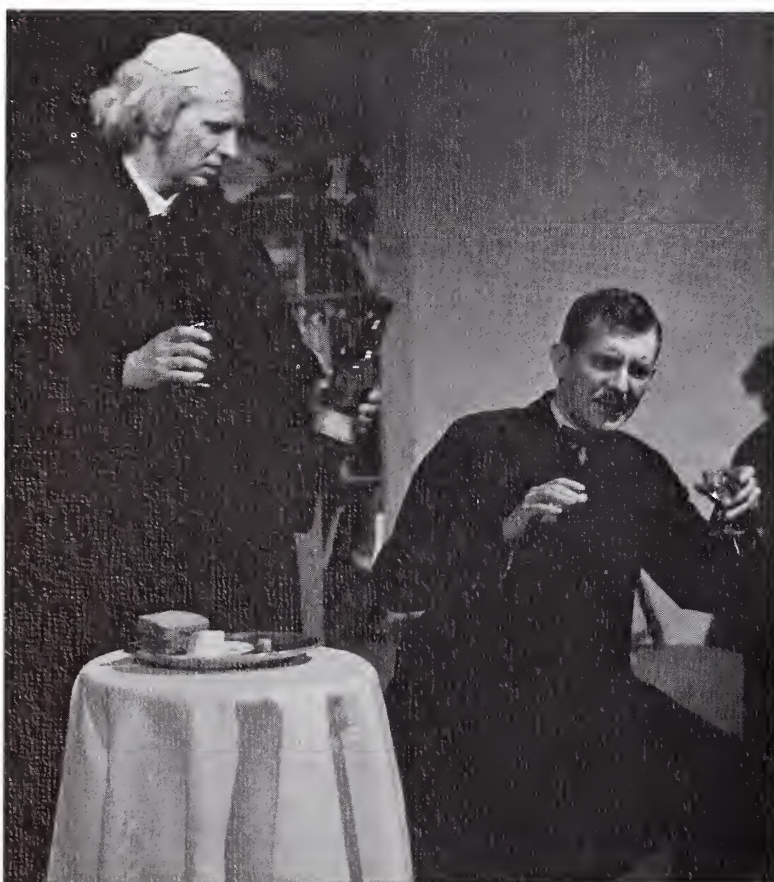

"There you are your Honor; see, it fits perfectly."

"Bailiff, call the

"I've had quite enough, now let's get to the bottom of this matter."

"The Broken Jug"

"The Broken Jug," a German play by Heinrich von Kleist, was translated by Professor Carl W. Geffert and Dr. Donald J. Savage for production in the Spring. With a cast of faculty and facultette the play was presented in Jacob Konzett Lounge March 28-31. Since Campus Lane Theater was well on its way to become the student union, a completely new stage and set had to be designed and constructed especially for the lounge. "The Broken Jug," in which the entire cast caught the true spirit of comedy, heralded the close of a fine dramatic season.

"The poor departed parts of my parted pewter pitcher will never become whole again."

"You spiteful thing you, you're the cause of all this!"

Political Emphasis Week

Political Emphasis Week, which was initiated last year, featured Iowa's Governor Harold Hughes and Junior Senator Jack Miller. In convocations and open press conferences Hughes and Miller addressed University of Dubuque students and administration, Dubuque citizens, and representatives of newspapers, radio stations, and television circuits on politics and government.

Governor Hughes who visited the campus Wednesday, April 24, spoke on individual responsibility to government and in his press conference discussed his views on legislative matters currently in the Iowa Assembly. Senator Miller followed the same rigorous schedule on Friday and addressed students on government that distinguishes us from the Communists. Both the Governor and the Senator delivered public addresses in the evenings in McCormick Gymnasium.

Dedication of Aitchison Hall

Dedicated May 11, 1963, the Anna M. Aitchison Residence Hall for Women was named in honor of Miss Aitchison, Professor Emeritus of English. A graduate of Grinnell College and Cornell University, she has been a faculty member since 1923. Miss Aitchison, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, holds an honorary Litt. D. degree from the University of Dubuque and was made professor emeritus in 1960.

On campus Dr. Aitchison serves as an honorary of Delta Phi Sigma sorority and currently instructs two sections of English literature. She also has taught sections of American literature, freshman English, world literature, the Novel, eighteenth century literature and the romantic period.

In honor of Miss Aitchison's devoted service, the 1949 KEY staff fittingly inscribed their annual dedication "And Gladly Learn and Gladly Teach."

In continued appreciation the new dormitory is humbly dedicated.

Dave Connor, President of the Student Senate, escorting Miss Aitchison to the formal dedication.

"Class dismissed."

Student Senate President, Tom Rosenquist, congratulates Sandi Nelson and David Connor, King and Queen of May Fete.

"The envelope, please."

May Fete

Overcast skies warned of rain and the temperature dropped, but optimism prevailed and the May Fete coronation and program started on the Quadrangle in front of Van Vliet Hall. A band concert opened the evening's activities and was followed by the crowning of the May Fete Queen, Sandy Nelson and King Dave Connor, who reigned throughout the weekend with their royal court. Members of the royal court were Seniors, Ruth Flage and Dick Fisher, Juniors, Shirley Ackland and Roger Loney, Sophomores, Bobbie Hollan and Harold Knutson and Freshmen, Sandy Braun and Chuck De Farkas. Skits and entertainment by sororities, fraternities, and classes were begun outside, but natural elements caused a migration to the gymnasium midway through the program.

Other May Fete events included the dedication of Aitchison Hall and a dedication luncheon held at Peters Commons. Climaxing the weekend was the spring prom, "Festival of Flowers."

Euridice is puzzled by Orpheus' strange behavior.

Orpheus learns that he may recapture his love from death.

Orpheus and Euridice

An improvised theatre in the Commons, a stage made up by tying wooden tables together, and lighting borrowed from the now long-gone Campus Lane Theatre; not the best conditions under which to stage an opera, and yet this spring's opera was a huge success even under these trying circumstances. "Orpheus and Euridice" is a long opera without much of a plot, but when it is well sung, the audience is carried along by the music. A hand picked orchestra, the voices of the Concert Choir, and the skill of Professor Kenneth Nielsen as a director and conductor combined to conquer all difficulties.

The part of Orpheus was sung by Dianne Clark, Euridice by Judi King, and Amor by Mary Ann Sheean. Ronald Luchsinger staged the production.

In Elysium, Euridice sings of the joys of paradise.

"Our Euridice is dead."

Euridice is lost forever because Orpheus looked into her eyes against the command of the Gods.

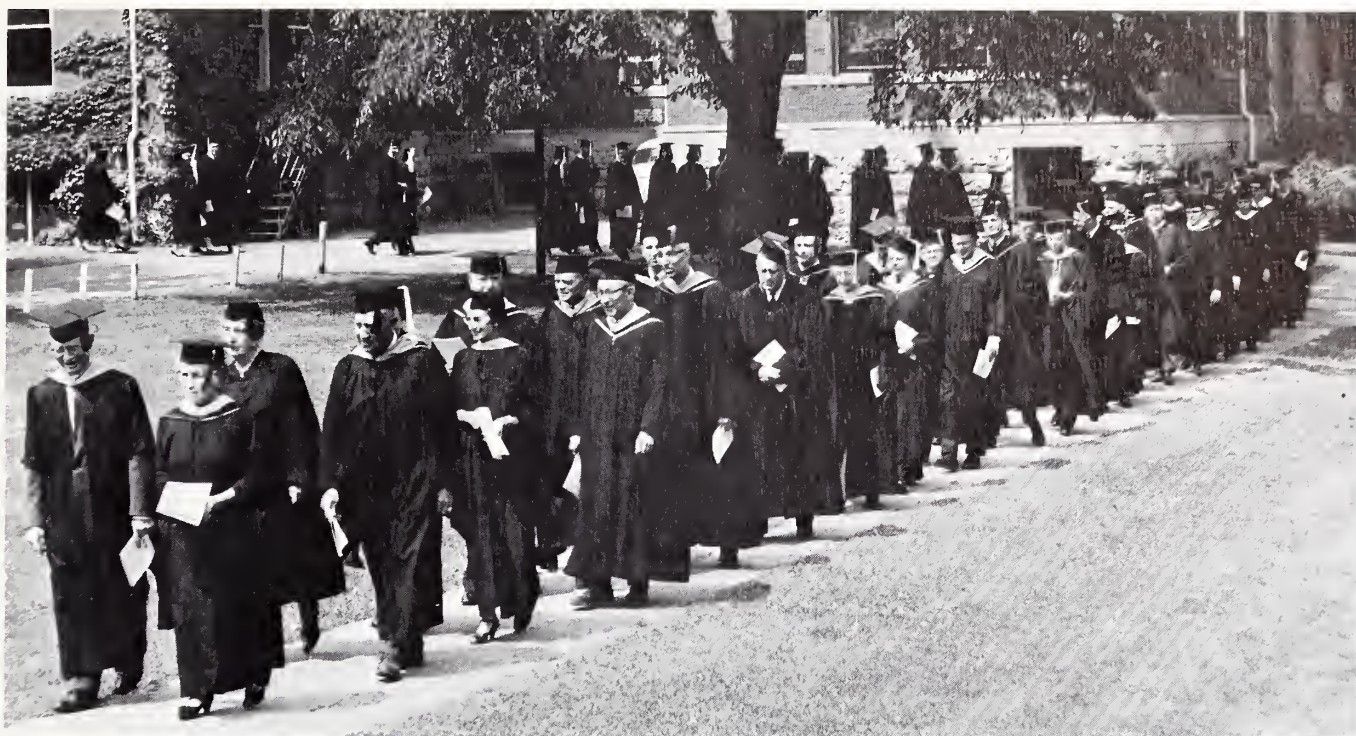

Doctor Couchman presents a diploma to his daughter, Mary.

Doctor Couchman addressing the graduates

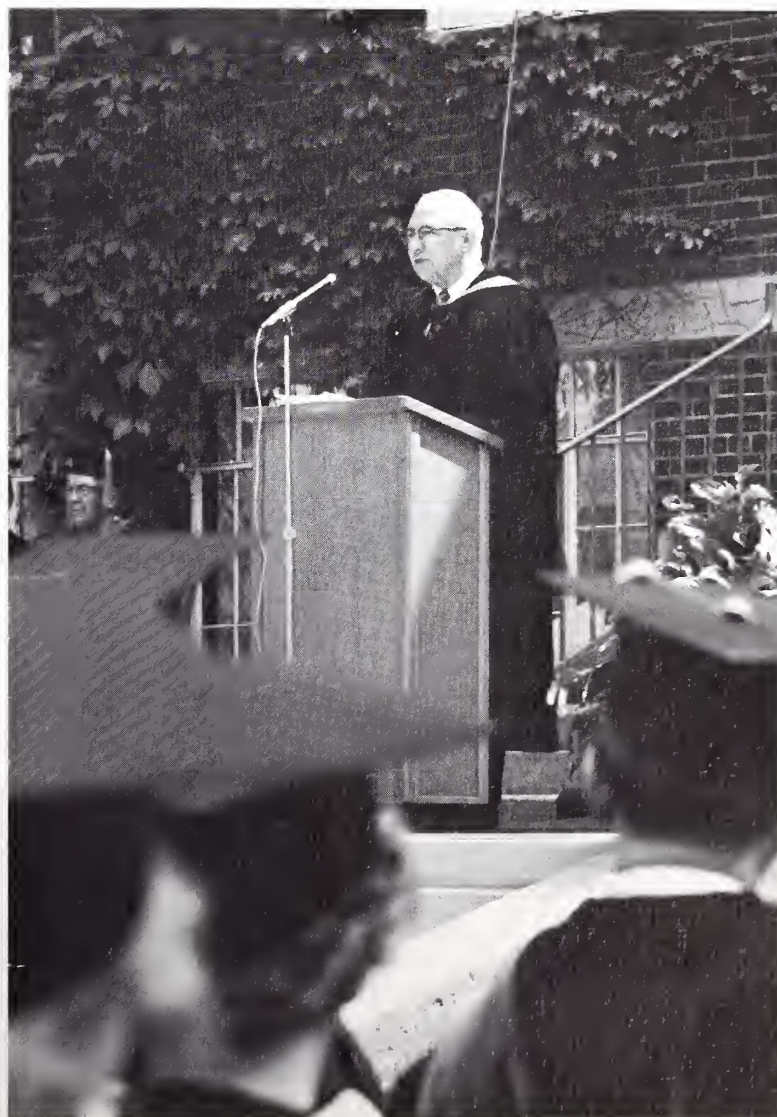

"Learn to do one thing very well," advised Dr. Hancher, "in order to be happy in life."

Graduation

Against the backdrop of Van Vliet Hall on the quadrangle, the procession of graduates lead by Doctor George Ehlhardt, University Marshal, filed in to hear Doctor Hancher, President of Iowa State University, address them. The quadrangle was jammed with friends and relatives who came from all over the country to see the graduates of the college and seminary stand and sing the "Alma Mater" for the last time and then receive their long awaited degree.

Acknowledgements

A yearbook is the product of many minds and many hands working together. To acknowledge the special service rendered by each would be an impossible task. A sincere thank you is extended to every member of the staff for all the work put in this year.

To our over-worked photographer — adviser, William Tupper, goes a special thank you for the long hours in the darkroom. Thanks also to Steve Dodge for assisting in the photography.

Sincere appreciation is extended to Assistant Editor, Jerry Ganfield, for his willingness to help and the many early morning sessions spent finishing deadlines.

Finally to our unseen friends at American Yearbook Company and our representative, Fred Stoeker, many thanks for all the help and cooperation.
